This is not happening in Horwich/ Bolton area All buildings that are put up without prior planning permission being obtained should be ordered to be removed. This is not the case on Chorley Old Road. Developers should always pay their contribution to local services. Historically this has not always happened in the Horwich area Cycleways separated from the roads need to be introduced, painted lines on the road where cars park within it are not effective and do not give people the confidence to cycle. Link our small towns like Horwich and Westthroughton and Wigan and Chorleyby a proper cycleway Get rid of the right to buy in the Greater Manchester area and throughout England. Selling off good quality rental properties makes it more difficult for people on low incomes.

Is this included? Link roads may be needed I do not have a view on this however there should be a regulation that a footpath and cycleway should run alongside any new roads (separated by a (grass) verge). Talk to the people who already travel for work from for example Westhoughton to the Middlebrook industrial and retail area. Ask them where the cycleways etc. need to be. That would be a far more accessible consultation for "everyone". Exhibitions and roadshows without any feedback to communities does not give people faith in the planning process. Is this consultation just for developers not everyone?

Could more access be given to the public to use some more of our reservoirs rivers etc. for open water swimming etc.? Regional bodies need to work wider so that National policy and laws support these aims too. Private companies and developers seem to have the law on their side when they can keep appealing against planning decisions. Money talks and dominates "everyone"/ the local resident. Can the Plan for Everyone change any of this? Make it easier for Residents Associations/groups to request/secure, upgrades/maintenance to their local footpaths.

I think that the council still maintain the leasehold for these land parcels. Those precious spaces in amongst the houses, typically a bit of grass and some trees. Locally we have experienced the owner employing contractors to arrive early one morning and cut down many mature trees before the council could put preservation orders on those remaining. How can this be prevented? Is this part of Places for Everyone or would it just encourage building on these pockets of open land?
